Yearbook 2008-2009

The Yearbook Thanks You

Over the course of the past school semester, the yearbook has secretly gone under heavy development. Even though our work had been deleted numerous times, we carried on, thanks to the hope imbued within us by Barack "the Builder" Obama, as he famously says..... "Yes We Can!!!" subsequently "Yes We Did". So a special thanks goes out to him. We had lots of other support, which we are grateful for, from the following:

Mrs E Wright
Mrs Bangura
The Guidance Staff
The Office Staff

Mrs Green (Photocopy Expert)
Mrs Souter (For knowing a good joke when she sees one)
Gary Coull

Morag Martin and 'Clicks Photos'
Teachers who supplied us with their baby photos
Sixth Years for their cooperation

And finally YOU for purchasing this Yearbook

If we have missed out any names it is because you weren't important enough or you DIDN'T GIVE US AN INTERVIEW (THAT MEANS YOU ALEX SALMOND!!)

Thanks from the Yearbook Committee

Four weeks into the production of the Yearbook 08/09, flooding destroyed all the original material hoping to be included in the yearly annual. During the summer holidays, the old radiators in the Maths, Modern Languages, Computing, Admin and Social Subject area of the school were all being replaced. Firstly, all the water had to be drained out of the system for the new radiators to be installed. Once this had been completed, the radiators were mounted on the walls and they began to pump the water back into the pipe work again. However due to carelessness and lack of concentration, one tap in Geography was left on, and as you can guess, it flooded that room. But that wasn't the end of the trauma as the water eventually seeped through the floor into the rooms below (Geography being on the top level) and cascaded into the Administration/Business Management rooms.

These rooms were left in a disgusting and an abominable state which meant the destruction of many computers, students' work, exam papers, NAB results, textbooks, furniture, carpet, personal belongings and most importantly OUR Yearbook. After weeks of mourning we began to salvage all that was not lost (which wasn't particularly much). Following this disastrous blow we commenced the creation of YEARBOOK Mk II (the masterpiece your eyes should be feasting on at this present moment in time).

BUT once again OUR Yearbook had been stopped in its tracks, this time by malicious and nihilist extremists who purposely annihilated OUR masterpiece in the student file sharing system. However they were not going to succeed in battering down OUR morale and determination. Following this second disastrous blow we commenced the creation of YEARBOOK Mk III (the masterpiece your eyes are feasting on at this present moment in time). Hopefully no more catastrophes will cross OUR path, so please...

Editorial letter

Another year has come and gone and another yearbook has been produced, with some highs and some lows. Actually... just lows, as you will read about in this edition. This year we have gone for a completely different angle by expressing our humour through our school lives.

Does this mean that this year's yearbook will be successful??
To find the answer look up Andy McNab's 'Aggressor'.

Page 69.
Word 138.

Despite all of these lows, we have shined and enjoyed creating this masterpiece. We would like to thank, in no particular order:

Henna Mehmood
Keir Duncan
Rachel Henderson
Scott Smillie
Jennifer Innes
Oliver John Williams
Lisa Davidson
Esko Johnston
Rachael Milne
Ashley Atkins
Ross Grant
Louis Clark

Thanks to all and most importantly thanks to the customer for purchasing our product.

The Editors - Tom Smith, Chris Urbanowicz, Russel Leetch and Edward Lay

The Yearbook Editors - Toby Noakes and Gavin McWilliam

Thanks. ☺

Strike Action at Keith Schools

On Wednesday 24 of September, revolution gripped the oppressed proletariats of Keith. Workers of the world were united against the evil repressive capitalist councils. The Revolt was triggered by the stingy pay settlement that the exploited janitors, office staff, auxiliaries, canteen staff and technicians were offered. The trade unions (or the brave and honourable champions of the working class) made their stand and set up barricades at strategically placed locations, namely the school gates.

As the rebels rose against the bourgeoisie, the school was thrown into anarchy. In the morning only one main door had been opened causing confusion which led to dozens of children being humiliated and laughed at by other children, who earlier had made the same mistake themselves, of unknowingly pounding into the locked door. OUR school staggered through the day coping with the bare minimum of staff whilst other educational establishments were forced to close all their doors.

The three trade unions who were fighting for the worker's rights were the mighty GMB, the courageous UNISON and the sublime UNITE. Nevertheless it is unclear whether this commotion was worth all the aggravation as Judgement Day has not yet passed on whether the unions have won their dispute.

Homecoming Scotland 2009

homecomingscotland2009.com

Homecoming Scotland 2009 marks the 250th anniversary of the birth of Scotland's national poet and cultural icon Robert Burns, whose message of friendship epitomised through the song 'Auld Lang Syne' lives on.

Burns is the inspiration behind our year long celebration of some of Scotland's great contributions to the world:

- Golf
- Whisky
- Great Scottish Minds and Innovation
- Robert Burns
- and our rich culture and heritage.

For the millions around the world with Scots ancestry and everyone with a passion for our great nation, 2009 will be an exceptional year to visit Scotland

K Factors:

These prestigious pieces of paper are highly sought after as they represent recognition from your teacher and your peers that you best fill one of the criteria. The categories that these are awarded for are as follows:

- Responsible Citizens
- Confident Individuals
- Successful Learners
- Effective Contributors

Each department of the school decides for each year group which pupil has best fulfilled these criteria they take great care and use almost excessive consideration of their pupils abilities to decide who is worthy for these awards. Are these pupils pure in heart, word and deed? Have they completed such mighty quests as were laid before them (homework, dragonslaying etc) and proved themselves worthy of the honour? They then ask a man who is a giant in the world of education if their humble choices are pleasing in the eyes of their master. Due to a high attrition rate (homework not done dragons burning them to a cinder etc) there is no one who meets these exacting criteria and the teachers realise they must choose the only other reasonable course of action; they must pick a random name off the register.

Senior induction:

The senior induction this year brought students of S4 - S6 together in team building exercises, which occurred over three days. The first day was made up of many different events such as wall climbing, drama and a variety of sports. The next two days consisted of a workshop designed to make Keith grammar school students work better together as teams. This failed even worse than ever as S4 to S6 "attempted" to work together which ended in a catastrophic disaster of slideshows and presentations about Keith. As you can imagine we were not impressed. These activities dragged on for hours and did not work as they were designed to. Although it did bring the senior school together in hatred of the activities.

The U.S. Elections

You may not have noticed but there was a Presidential election in America last year (believe it or not, there really was!). McCain was the Republican candidate, Obama was the candidate for the Democrats and there was even a third candidate BOB BARR (who strangely looks like a second hand car salesman). Unfortunately no one voted for the remarkably heroic, brilliant and gracious BOB BARR because someone named Barack Obama hogged the limelight. Nevertheless we are all hoping to catch a glimpse of that which is the remarkable, astonishing and pure brilliance BOB BARR in the 2012 election campaign where he could be involved in another extravagant downfall.

Here are some reactions to the presidential elections from the teachers, unfortunately nobody knew who the incredible BOB BARR is, and therefore there are only comments about some not so very famous politicians.

Do you think that Obama is the right person to lead the United States of America?

"Better than the previous President"

"No, no experience and race may count against him."

"Yes, he's a breath of fresh air"

Approximately how big do you think Sarah Palin's IQ is? Here are some realistic and sensible examples:

"negative 70", "seven", "minus 70, not the brightest button on the box", "the same as Iceland's bank balance", and "I typed Sarah Palin into Google and it came up with a porn film", "minus three billion"

Will you be sad to see George 'Dubya' Bush leaving?

"I wouldn't be sad if he fell off the universe", "NO, he was a pain in the neck", "OH definitely" and "No, the most cerebrally lacking morally repugnant daddy's boy ever to be called the leader of the so called 'free world'"

Badaguish 2008:

Badaguish is an outdoor activity centre located in the Cairngorms National Park. The event takes place once a year. Where teams from many schools from across Scotland (come out of their caves) to compete and raise money for disadvantaged children with special needs. The highest ranking team from KGS was The Stewarty Mac back in attack 2008 Society consisting of Ian, Dougie, Adie and the Eponymous Stewarty Mac with a time of 3:55:41. The team that won were the Somerfield Semi Socials from Nairn Academy with a time of 3:17:06. Each team had to cook for themselves and an epidemic of food poisoning (amazingly) did not occur. The weather even though showery at times, was good on the whole. The weekend was enjoyed by all who took part.

The other teams from Keith grammar school were:

- Pink Power Rangers 20th
- Run fat boy run 22nd
- Granny's for a party 23rd
- Three Wise Monkey's 26th
- Granny Pants 28th
- A rare smart eejit 30th
- Lamb Of God 36th
- And in last place is... 37th
- Cheereo 46th
- Ma! The meatloaf 48th
- Team one 55th

All the teams from Keith and every other school showed great team work and solidarity. Well done Keith!

Sports Day:

Sports day was held on Tuesday the first of July. The weather was dry but was a bit overcast. The track and field events went off with a bang (Except when Miss Benny forgot to load the starter pistol.) Many records were shattered. Including the schools 800M record by one Christopher Adie. (unfortunately no sports day pictures exist of Adie.) The sports day was won by Smith. Mair came second and Oglvie came third this was one of the closest competitions in years and resulted in no one being entirely sure who would win the interhouse overall.

The events can be split into track and field. The track events included the 100m, 200m, 800m and 1500m. These events had participants from all the school years competing; the athletes were sometimes a hairs breadth away from each other especially as they came onto the final stretch.

Field events took place near the top pitch throughout the day they ranged from long jump to discus and were fiercely competed for each athlete striving to out throw or out jump their competition.

School Show

'Calamity Jane' was chosen as the school show this year, with over 50 students taking part in the performances.

Calamity Jane - Jasmine Dey

Wild Bill Hickock - Francis Farrell

Lieut. Danny Gilmartin - Austin Christie

Katie Brown - Amy Papiransky

Henry Miller - Emma Dolphin

Susan - Jade Barron

Francis Fryer - Jay Clifford

Adelaide Adams - Chelsey Gordon

Interhouse:

Points were earned for this by taking part in a variety of events throughout the school year. These events ranged from public speaking to interhouse rap. It was eventually won by Mair by the slimmest of margins. The inter-house points were as follows Mair 721, Smith 710 and Ogilvie 567. The competition was fierce and close through out the year as Smith and Mair went head to head to gain the house cup. The championship was finally won by a small margin, surely the closest competition for years.

The events are as follows:

- Boys Basketball
- Dance
- Boys Football
- Girls Hockey
- Gymnastics
- Badminton
- Cross Country
- Science
- Debating
- Ready, Steady, Cook!
- Rap
- Art
- Darts
- Pool/Snooker
- IT challenge
- Senior Induction
- Maths
- Swimming Gala
- Athletics

Through out the course of the events the points varied from house to house. Changing from great leads to tiny margins

If you are wondering how a team could get 600 odd points on sports day and 40 points an event and some how only get 600 points it is because of the mathematical witchcraft used by Mrs McLennan. She takes the numbers and beats them until they fit the formula she has chosen.

Gary Coull Interview

Interview by Ashley Atkins & Ross Grant

Pictures by Toby Moxton

After a few weeks of meticulous planning and unbearable anticipation, we finally got to interview (the Keith legend, that is) Gary Coull. We met him at the new chic SNP office based in Mid Street. After having an ice-breaker over a bottle of Im-Bru, we got down to the business of interviewing Councillor Gary Coull (he once went to Keith Grammar School, you know!).

AA: What is your favourite food Gary?

GC: Lasagne & Chips

AA: Favourite TV?

GC: Scrubs

AA: Why Scrubs?

GC: Because Elliot is in it!! (Puzzling look from Ashley)

RG: It's the hot person!

GC: You had a face of horror [Ashley].

RG: Do you like Family

Guy?

GC: I do, yes. The West Wing as well.

AA: Favourite Film?

GC: There's Something About Mary

AA: Why that film in particular

GC: Cameron Diaz

AA: You have a thing for the ladies.

(Big grin appears on Gary's face)

AA: Favourite Music/Bands?

GC: Scottish country dance bands.

AA: We looked on Google, and typed in your name, and found out there is another person called Gary Coull; who is, not as famous as you, he only got into 'The Times' once. He's now dead, unfortunately. We found out that he was a flamboyant, dead, Canadian Journalist, who co-founded CSLA (an innovative brokerage for Asian and Pacific markets).

GC: That was me.

RG: You have a double life?

GC: Yes, that's my double life.

AA: ...But you've killed yourself off?

GC: Yes, for Tax purposes.

AA: I suppose you've got to have a good reputation to be a politician.

RG: In order to get your phone number, I know your mother works at the solicitors, we had a conversation with her and we said that you're quite the celebrity. But she quoted "He isn't famous at our house, he still doesn't even tidy his bedroom..." (Gary Coull fanatic interrupts the interview by heavenly praising Gary's work in the community. Ever the saint, Gary is concerned by his follower's present health worries. She appreciates the concern, but is fine. Back to the interview...)

GC: Yes, it's true, I don't tidy my bedroom.

RG: What was the greatest achievement of your school life?

GC: er... (long pause), I'm definitely not going to say Higher

English, ...probably the last two school shows that I did. They were Grease & West Side Story.

I played the geek in Grease. I think I played it quite well.

AA: With all that hard work of being man of the people do you have time for hobbies and if so what are they?

GC: I do have numerous hobbies such as Scottish country dancing and being part of the Moray Music festival.

AA: When you were a referee

how did you deal with the abuse

from the other players?

GC: With yellow and red cards (Gary gives off a blank stare to show the stupidity of the question).

RG: What was the foulest deed you ever committed at school?

GC: There was never really anything that bad. Rhona Ingram went to sit down and I pulled her chair away. She just went BMM and smacked her head off the radiator. We had muck up day as well so we stole all of the clocks; put a skeleton in Mr Aitkin's toilet. We also stole his fridge.

RG: What was in his fridge?

GC: Diet Coke (everyone laughs).

AA: Gary, you are very stylish man... (embarrassing laughter ensues).

RG: ...do you have a fashion guru to report to?

GC: My Mother.

RG: Your mother has very good taste. If you weren't a politician what would you be?

GC: A modern studies teacher.

(At this point, Saint Gary Coull is rudely interrupted by Mr X - THE VERY ANGRY MAN)

MR X: I see you have a congregation Gary.

AA: We're his disciples.

MR X: Eh!?!?

AA: We're his disciples.

MR X: Fit was that?!?

AA: We're his disciples.

MR X: The disciples? Well God help us.

(At this point Mr X directs his anger at Gary Coull)

MR X: Who voted you into the council?

GC: Folk.

MR X: Aye, and fa pays your wages?

GC: The Government.

MR X: No it's the ratepayers.

(At this point Mr X keeps repeating himself about a silly argument that has dragged on for years. Saint Gary Coull takes it all in his stride. After another ten minutes of arguing Gary Coull is involved in his finest hour)

GC: That's actually for the good of the country. I will defend them to the HILT! They promote this country far and wide.

(There is only one word to describe that: Braveheart. After that glorious defence made by Saint Gary Coull, Mr X left with his tail between his legs. He was beaten, Gary was victorious.)

GC: That's the worst thing about being a councillor.

(Toby Noakes finally makes an appearance.)

TN: You're looking forward to being a teacher then?

(Gary chuckles, but doesn't reply, I think we all know the answer...)

AA: If you were God how would you have rested on the seventh day?

GC: I would probably sit around and watch t.v.

AA: For twenty-four hours?

GC: I'd maybe get up and get a glass of juice.

RG: We've got one more. This took a bit of time because we had to go through the whole computer system. We need some autographs (Gary sighs with an amused expression). Could you explain these photos?

GC: I can. It was my 21st birthday and I had a fancy dress ceilidh. I came in that Navy costume and my brother came as the Pope.

AA: Did you regret wearing that costume?

GC: Looking at the pictures; yes...

AA: Can I have a special message with my autograph?

GC: You're stretching it a bit.

(Gary slides autographs over the table)

AA: He won't be laughing when I use this autograph for a new credit card.

This is where we ended the interview, and since then Gary has received a credit card bill from the bank for £27,681.53. To his surprise he found that he had spent his money on Backstage V.I.P. Tickets to Lionel Richie in Las Vegas; a very luxurious 5 and a half star hotel (honeymoon suite); and the rest spent on 'room service' and, er... gambling.

WE LOVE YOU GARY

Jealous of youth
Same old suit since 1962
He does the military two-step
Down the nape of my neck

I wanna go home

Give up education
As a bad mistake
Mid-week on the playing fields

Sir thwacks you on the knees
Kneels you in the groin
Elbow in the face
Bruises bigger than dinner plates

I wanna go home

Give up education
As a bad mistake

Please excuse me from gym

Autograph Page

Here's where you get random people to scribble over your yearbook...
Enjoy!

This section of the yearbook is all about sixth year, and as the only sixth year on the committee I got landed with the task and now I have to take the blame. It was me who designed the survey, it was me who chose the pictures, it was me who edited the spelling and punctuation (but hey I can't work Miracles), it was me who found the most offensive lines amusing and didn't think to delete them. And when the inevitable lawsuit is launched it will be me who has to pay up and/or serve the jail time. There's a lot of good stuff in there as well but unfortunately I can't take any credit for that, it was all down to sixth year.

Frankly I'm amazed we all made it this far.

WARNING!!! ONCE YOU READ
IT YOU CANT UN-READ IT!!!!!!
UNRATED!!

Ok enough with the drama. It's not really that BAD seriously.... We just gave the sixth year's complete control over what they say and censored the more inappropriate material... Just a little bit honest.... Ok a lot of censoring.... Please enjoy...
