KEITH GRAMMAR SCHOOL

Introductory

Though our knowledge of the Schoolmasters of Keith goes back to 1604, the first school building of which we have authentic record, that known as the Edindaich Mortifier's School, was built in the Old Churchyard in 1648. This school and its endowment Keith owed to the generosity of Alexander Ogilvie, Writer to the Signet, Edinburgh, who, in 1647, "out of the love and affection which he had for learning and virtuous education of children within the parish of Keith, where he was born and bred," mortified the Kirk lands of Edindaich, of which he was heritable proprietor, to the Minister, Elders, and Deacons of the Parish of Keith "for bigging and upholding of a School at the Parish Kirk of Keith, and for maintaining and sustaining a schoolmaster thereat, perpetually and in all time coming." This building served as the principal school of the parish for over 170 years. It appears to have had a succession of able masters and to have been looked upon as an important educational centre. Its most distinguished pupil was James Ferguson, Astronomer and Fellow of the Royal Society.

From 1819 to 1833 the upper flat of the Jail on the Square constituted the school premises, but in 1833 the Heritors built the Parish School on the site of the present buildings. Mr James Smith, M.A., who was schoolmaster from 1829 to 1866, made it one of the most notable schools in the north of Scotland, a reputation which has been well upheld since his day. Since the passing of the Education Act of 1872 the building has been extended several times, the most important extensions being effected in 1890, 1895 and 1908.

KEITH GRAMMAR SCHOOL

Buildings, Organisation, Curriculum

Keith Grammar School supplies elementary and secondary education not only to the towns of Keith and Fife-Keith but also to a large surrounding district.

According to the classification of schools in the regulations of the Scotch Education Department it is a full Secondary School providing a complete course of elementary instruction and in addition a complete course of secondary education extending over not less than five years. The School has further been recognised by the Department as a Centre for the Training of Junior Students—that is, of students enrolled for the purpose of being educated and trained for the teaching profession.

For the Secondary Department a fine suite of rooms has been provided and in addition there are a spacious and fully equipped Laboratory for Physics and Chemistry, suitable for classes up to forty pupils, an Art Room with specially designed desks for Drawing, a Kitchen fully provided with appliances for the teaching of Cookery and Laundry Work, a Room suitably furnished for the instruction of girls in Housewifery, and a Workshop with carefully selected apparatus for the instruction of boys in Woodwork. An important feature of the main building is the fine School Hall capable of holding six hundred pupils and easily accessible from all parts of the building.

Libraries and Pictures.—Every class in the school is furnished with a small Library. The walls are hung with many fine pictures—bought from the proceeds of School Concerts or gifted by private donors. Contributions of books or of pictures will be very welcome.

ELEMENTARY DEPARTMENT

The organisation and curriculum of the Department are based on the requirements of the Code for Day Schools issued annually by the Scotch Education Department.

There are four divisions of this Department :—

1. Infant Division—Two Years' Course.
2. Junior Division—Two or Three Years' Course.
3. Senior Division—Two Years' Course.
4. Supplementary Course Division—Two Years' Course.

The Subjects of Instruction in the first three Divisions are :—

Religious Knowledge, English, Writing, Arithmetic, Geography, History, Drawing and Clay Modelling, Nature Knowledge, Singing, Needlework (girls), Kindergarden (infants), Physical Exercises.

The completion of this course of study is marked by the Qualifying Examination of the Scotch Education Department. (See p. 12.)

The Supplementary Course Classes are intended solely for those pupils who, having passed the Qualifying Examination, require to leave School on attaining the age of fourteen years. All pupils who may reasonably be expected to remain at school until they attain the age of fifteen years, or to complete a three years' course of higher instruction, should enter the Secondary Department—not the Supplementary Course Classes.

Parents who wish their children to enter the Supplementary Course Classes must give written intimation of their desire to the Rector at the beginning of the Session. Pupils will not, unless for very special reasons, be transferred from the Higher Grade Department to the Supplementary Course Classes, or vice versa, in the middle of a session.

The Subjects of instruction in the Supplementary Course Division are :—

BOYS AND GIRLS—Religious Knowledge, English, Writing, Arithmetic, Geography, History, Drawing—further study and practical application of these to the requirements of ordinary life ; Experimental Science.

BOYS ONLY—Book-keeping, Business Correspondence, Study of Newspaper Business Columns, Practical Experiments in Measurement, Woodwork.

GIRLS ONLY—Household Management, including Cookery, Laundry Work, Simple Dressmaking, Marketing, Keeping Accounts, Laws of Health, Care of the Home.

The satisfactory completion of this Course of Study is marked by the award of a Merit Certificate. (See p. 12.)

INTERMEDIATE DEPARTMENT

Before enrolment in this Department pupils must satisfy the Rector that they have passed or are able to pass the Qualifying Examination. They are expected not to leave School on attaining the age of fourteen years but to pursue in earnest a course of higher instruction for at least three years. The instruction provided in this department is suited to the needs not merely of those who are preparing to enter the University and the learned professions but also of those who wish to qualify for commercial appointments and for the positions in the skilled trades.

The subjects for instruction in this course are :—

Religious Knowledge, English, History, Geography, Mathematics, Experimental Science (Elementary Physics and Chemistry), Drawing, Latin, French, Singing, Physical Exercises, Cookery and Needlework (girls), or Woodwork (boys). Not all pupils take Latin.

The satisfactory completion of this Course of Study is marked by the award of the Intermediate Certificate of the Scotch Education Department. (See p. 12.)

SECONDARY DEPARTMENT

Before enrolment in this Department pupils must have passed the Intermediate Certificate Examination. It cannot be too clearly understood that the instruction provided in this Department is not intended solely for those preparing to enter the University or the teaching profession. It is equally necessary, and special courses are devised, for those who wish to qualify for the higher commercial appointments or for the Civil Service, or who mean afterwards to pursue their studies at some technical college or college of art.

The course of instruction extends over not less than two years and provides for advanced studies in some group of subjects selected from the following :—

English, History, Geography, Mathematics, Latin, Greek, French, German, Experimental Science, Drawing.

These subjects may be studied in any one of the following groups:—

1. English with History, Latin, French, Mathematics.
2. English with History, Latin, French, German, Mathematics.
3. English with History and Geography, Latin, French, Mathematics, Experimental Science.
4. English with History and Geography, Latin, French, Mathematics.
5. English with History, French, Drawing, Mathematics or Experimental Science.

Religious Knowledge, Singing and Physical Exercises are included in all courses.

Special courses may be arranged by the Rector for individual pupils.

The satisfactory completion of an advanced course of study extending over not less than two years is marked by the award of the Leaving Certificate of the Scotch Education Department. (See p. 12).

Junior Students will, as a rule, follow course 4, with the addition of Drawing, Needlework, Nature Study, Teaching (Theory and Practice).

The three first courses are of equal value for the Aberdeen University Bursary Competition. Those who look forward to obtaining a University degree with Honours should choose one of these courses.

1921—January 19th, 20th, 21st.

Besides the stated Term Examinations, the dates of which are given above, occasional examinations, both oral and written, may be held by members of the Staff and by the Rector without previous notice. School Regulations

ADMISSION.—It is required by law that children shall be sent to school from the age of five to the age of fourteen years.

According to the Education Act of 1908, there must be "fixed dates" for the admission of children coming to school for the first time and for the withdrawal of children who are leaving school at the age of fourteen years. The period of compulsory school attendance is now reckoned from the first fixed date after the fifth to the first fixed date after the fourteenth birthday. The fixed dates for admission and withdrawal are:—1st January, 1st April, 1st August. Parents who are sending children to school for the first time should do so on the first school day after these fixed dates. Birth certificates should be sent in every case to ensure accuracy in the registration of names, dates of birth, etc. In the case of delicate children who are not sent to school until after the age fixed by the Education Acts, medical certificates should be sent to explain the delay.

WITHDRAWAL.—Pupils must not be withdrawn from attendance at school before first fixed date after their fourteenth birthday. Parents who intend to withdraw their children from school should in every case give written intimation of their intention to the Rector, and transference certificates, when these are required, will be furnished.

INFECTIOUS DISEASE.—According to the Public Health (Scotland) Act, 1897, persons who are suffering from any infectious disease or come from a house where infectious disease exists may not attend school. When any case of infectious disease arises, immediate notice should be sent by the parent or guardian of the pupil affected to the Rector. Pupils who have suffered from any infectious disease or have lived in any house where a case of infectious disease has occurred must produce a medical certificate that they are free from infection before they can be allowed to resume attendance at school.

REGISTER OF LODGINGS.—A register of lodgings is kept by the Rector, and only those lodgings that can be recommended will be allowed on the register.

RECTOR'S CONSULTING HOURS.—The Rector will be in his room most school days from 9 to 9.30 a.m. to receive any who may desire to consult him. Interviews at other times may be arranged. The Rector will be much pleased to advise parents who desire information with regard to choice of courses, progress of pupils, etc.

EMPLOYMENT BUREAU.—The Rector will be pleased to give information or advice to parents or pupils who desire it with regard to any form of employment for pupils of the school. Strictly confidential information will also be given to employers who desire it regarding the character and attainments of any pupils who apply to them for employment.

DISCIPLINE.—All pupils must be regular and punctual in attendance; in general habits orderly, neat and polite.

The Rector alone has authority from the Board to deal with cases of absence from school. To him all communications from parents should be sent.

A written excuse, dated and signed by the parent or guardian, is required in every case of absence or late arrival. When the pupil is absent beyond two days, a note of explanation is expected to be sent. In cases of continued illness a medical certificate should be procured and forwarded. Requests for leave of absence or for permission to leave school for any part of a day must be obtained beforehand and can be granted only by the Rector, to whom the request must be addressed in writing by the parent or guardian. Such requests will be granted only in cases of real necessity, where the reasons given seem to the Rector to be sufficiently important and when such absence will not seriously interfere with the instruction of the pupil.

Disorderly conduct of any kind on the way to and from the school is an offence against school discipline.

The Lady Superintendent will supervise the conduct and attend to the comfort of the girls of the Secondary Department.

FEES.—No fees are charged for any classes of the school. Stationery and Readers for use in school are supplied free.

DAMAGE.—Breakage of windows or damage to any article of school furniture must be immediately reported to the Janitor. Damage to school property—walls, windows, desks, furnishings—must be made good by the pupils in fault. Every piece of apparatus in the Science Laboratory has its proper value assigned, and all damages have to be made good.

REPORT CARDS.—Report Cards giving information as to conduct, attendance and the percentage of marks gained by the pupil, also the average percentage gained by the class in each subject, are issued to the pupils of the Secondary Department and to those of the Supplementary Course and Senior Divisions of the Elementary Department once in each of the three terms.

PROMOTION.—Pupils are promoted normally at the end of each school year but may be promoted without being a full year in a class, whilst those who do not master the work of any class in a school year may be retained in that class till they do so.

HOME LESSONS.—Parents are not expected to assist pupils in the preparation of Home Lessons, but they are invited to take a sympathetic interest in the work and to see that a reasonable amount of time is devoted to it. The amount of home lessons is fixed by the capabilities of the average pupil, and parents whose children seem to have either too much or too little work to do at home should communicate with the Rector. Pupils who neglect to prepare the lessons prescribed for home work, or who for any reason have failed to grasp the instruction given, may be detained for extra instruction after school hours.

PRIZES.—No prize will be awarded to any pupil whose conduct or attendance is unsatisfactory. In particular, no pupil who leaves school before the end of the session or absents himself from the annual Prize Distribution, unless for acceptable reasons or with permission obtained beforehand from the Rector, will receive a prize. Pupils who are absent from an Examination through illness may receive an average mark at the discretion of the Rector. No prizes will be awarded in any case where the number of marks gained is an unsatisfactory proportion of the total. No pupil will be awarded a Medal twice for the same subject.*

RELIGIOUS INSTRUCTION.—In the Senior School all classes assemble in the School Hall every morning for a short service of hymn and prayer. Regular instruction in religion and morals is also provided according to an approved Syllabus. Parents who wish their children to be exempted from religious instruction must give written intimation of their desire to the Rector.

SCHOOL BADGE.—All pupils are encouraged, and pupils of Secondary Departments are expected, to wear the school cap and badge. The cap, which is to be had in two forms, suitable for girls and boys respectively, is maroon in colour. The badge, which should be worn on the cap, and may, in the case of girls, be used also as a brooch, bears the motto of the School: "Do ut Des."

* This does not apply to Attendance Medals.
